

Photo by Matthew Eric Lit, CMC instructor

Join us at our members-only

2021 Mini-Innie

Friday and Saturday, July 9 & 10

In beautiful Breckenridge and Dillon

Friday morning session, 9:30 – 11:30 a.m.

Introduction to the AAUP Redbook

Via exclusive Zoom with AAUP President Irene Mulvey and AAUP Research Director Hans-Joerg Tiede

Friday afternoon workshop: 1:00 – 3:00 p.m.

How to Use the AAUP Redbook to Defend Adjunct Faculty

Presented by Colo. Conf. Executive Committee Member Don Eron

Friday night: 7:00 p.m. Dinner al fresco on the Dillon Inn veranda overlooking Buffalo Mountain

Saturday morning sessions, 9:30 – 11:30 a.m.

Overview of the Oct. 2021 Shared Governance Symposium -- Colo. Conf. Co-Pres. Stephen Mumme

How, Why and When to Publish Press Releases -- Colo. Conf. Co-Pres. Caprice Lawless

AAUP Advocacy in the Colorado Mountain College --- CMC AAUP Chapter Pres. Erin Beaver

Irene Mulvey

Hans-Joerg Tiede

Don Eron

Steve Mumme

Caprice Lawless

Erin Beaver

Our Mini-Innie, a miniature version of the inspiring, national AAUP Summer Institute, is free to members

We will gather at the Summit County Library in Breckenridge for our sessions all day Friday and on Saturday morning. Lunch Friday at the Library, followed that night with pizza, pizzaz, and brews on the veranda of the picturesque Dillon Inn, overlooking Buffalo Mountain and the Continental Divide. Caffeine will be in abundance from the Conference Coffee pot both days, along with rolls, fresh fruit, cold sodas, iced tea, chips — requisite snacks to keep us hydrated and focused on higher education while at a high altitude.

This historic, 19th century building is now the Summit County Library in Breckenridge.

Our meeting room at the Library has a kitchen.

Flowers surround the quaint Dillon Inn.

Hummingbirds like the Dillon Inn and so will you.

Rooms are quiet and comfy, with TV and WiFi.

Soak in the hot tub or do a few laps in the cool pool.

We have reserved a block of rooms at the Dillon Inn at a low price

RSVP: Caprice Lawless: coloradocaprice@gmail.com